

Professional Licensure or Certification Disclosure

The Project Management certificate as offered by Samford University, if successfully completed, has been identified as meeting the educational hours required by the Project Management Institute (PMI©) to sit for the Certified Associate in Project Management (CAPM®) exam in all US states and territories.